

OIKOUMENE

TASMANIAN COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

163 Macquarie Street, Hobart (GPO Box 1130 Hobart 7001)

April 2005

The 'Lund' Principle

Should not the churches act together in all matters except those in which deep differences of conviction compel them to act separately?

TCC APPOINTS NEW GENERAL SECRETARY

Both a challenge and an opportunity is how the new General Secretary of the Tasmanian Council of Churches, the Rev'd Tim Matton-Johnson (pictured), sees the position.

With many of the Member Churches under pressure from both within and without, as the world in which we live becomes increasingly diverse and complex, it would seem that there may not be a great deal of energy for ecumenical activities. Yet, believes Tim, many of the very same issues could well provide opportunities for churches to work together.

Tim is also very enthusiastic about the work of Christian World Service, which includes Christmas Bowl, and looks forward to adding his energy to that important part of the General Secretary's responsibilities.

Tim has provided ministry in Uniting Church congregations both in Victoria and Tasmania and is currently in a part-time placement with the Glenorchy congregation. In recent years he has also worked as an accountant but will be leaving that profession to join the TCC.

Tim is married to Lynne and they have three young adults about the house. Barnaby, the youngest, is in year 12, the eldest, Elanor, is in 3rd year at University and Ross is trying to decide 'What next'.

Tim expects that there will be a sharp learning curve as he begins to understand the life and history of the Tasmanian Council of Churches and its efforts to seek a new vision towards the future in obedience to the call of Christ.

Tim takes up his appointment as General Secretary on 1st July 2005.

TCC ANNUAL MEETING SATURDAY 14 MAY 2005

The TCC's 2005 Annual Meeting will be held at the Kings Meadows Salvation Army Citadel, 16-20 Kay Street, Kings Meadows, from 10.00 am—3.00 pm on Saturday 14th May.

Following on the theme of last year, A New Vision for Churches Working Together in Tasmania, the theme for this year will be Quo Vadis? - Which Way?

Keynote speaker will be the Rev'd Professor James Haire (pictured right). James is the current President of the National Council of Churches in Australia, the Director of the Australian Centre for Christianity and Culture in Canberra, and is Immediate Past President of the National Assembly of the Uniting Church in Australia. He is an eminent speaker, leader and educator and we are privileged to bring him to Tasmania for this event.

The keynote address will be during the morning session of the meeting at approximately 11.30 am. After lunch, James will be joined by Bishop John Harrower, Fr. Michael Tate and the Rev'd Rosalind Terry in a panel discussion on International Affairs, with an emphasis on Indonesia. Opportunity will be given for delegates to have interaction with the speakers and this should lead to an interesting and lively discussion. In addition to delegates representing Member Churches of the TCC, you are ALL WELCOME to come and hear James Haire. If you would like to stay for lunch, please advise the TCC office on 6234 2543 (or e-mail tcc@trump.net.au) as we will need to have numbers for catering.

Please plan to be there to be part of the continuing ecumenical journey in Tasmania.

WEEK OF PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN UNITY 8—15 May 2005

Prayer—visible sign and instrument of Christian Unity

The ecumenical movement needs visible signs of Christian unity, and the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity is one.

For churches in Slovakia, the Week of Prayer is perhaps the most visible sign of what members of different churches in that country have in common, reflecting many aspects of cooperation between churches. It was those churches who provided the theme and basic worship resources for the Week of Prayer in 2005, and in their situation—marked by new possibilities for growth—they developed the theme: Christ, the one foundation of the Church (1 Corinthians 3:1-23).

With its origins dating back to 1908, the Week of Prayer is a world-wide endeavour of Christians of many churches, languages, and great diversity of race and culture, who are engaged in praying and working for the unity of Christians in the service of the wider redemption, unity and peace of all peoples. The Week is an opportunity to express the degree of communion which the churches have already received, and to pray together for that full unity which is Christ's will. It is about being faithful to the prayer of Jesus Christ, as seen in John 17, 'that they may be one'.

From Destruction to Reconstruction— Tsunami Victims Rebuild their lives

Four months have passed since the tsunami on December 26, but for those who personally experienced the disaster, it is not easy to forget the day that changed their lives.

The impact of the tsunami can still be seen, despite the cleaning and clearing work that has been continuous.

People are somehow managing to cope with life after the tsunami, but it will be a long time before many can call life normal. The reconstruction and rebuilding will take many years.

A photo essay of relief efforts can be seen at http://act-intl.org/news/dt_nr_2005/dtindonesia0905.html

Christmas Bowl funds (through Action by Churches Together (ACT) International will continue to support relief efforts in the tsunami affected areas.

REFUGEE AND MIGRANT SUNDAY—28 AUGUST 2005

What is Refugee and Migrant Sunday?

Refugee and Migrant Sunday (RMS) aims to encourage churches to help brave people build new lives by celebrating the contribution of refugees and migrants have made to Australia. A special focus is on refugees, asylum seekers and other people who have been forcibly displaced. RMS is held every year in thousands of churches around Australia on or near the last Sunday in August.

Free Education Kits!

To help celebrate and raise awareness, the NCCA produces free Parish and School Education Kits with a poster to promote the day, refugee stories, education sheets, suggested activities and worship resources. Contact the TCC office for a free hard copy, or download from www.ncca.org.au/cws/refugees.

Media Competition—Get your School involved!

Each year, the National Council of Churches also runs a Media Competition. This year, the theme is "Refugees: part of our family too!" Winners in each of the three categories—from graphics, paintings and drawings to power point presentations, poetry and film—receive $250 and the entries go up on the NCCA's online gallery. The winning entry will be used to promote day around Australia in 2006.

EAT THIS BREAD, DRINK THIS CUP

Eucharistic Practice in Australian Churches

(A Booklet for Group Study and prayer)

For the large majority of Christians, the celebration of the Eucharist is at the centre of their experience and life of faith, an essential part of their spiritual journey.

In 2000, the New South Wales Ecumenical Council, in partnership with the Victorian Council of Churches, produced a study book on Baptism—Life After Drowning which was widely used for ecumenical studies in Tasmania.

Now the NSW Ecumenical Council is offering a sequel. Eat this Bread, Drink this Cup aims to provide a similar opportunity for reflection on the Eucharist. It is as we grow in understanding of one another that we increase our appreciation of and respect for one another and so move towards a more complete communion with one another. Our complete communion will find expression in the sharing of the Eucharist together.

Copies of the study book are available from the TCC Office for $5.50 each. We highly recommend it to you for ecumenical studies with your neighbouring churches.
